The Core System

Deltek PIM stores all information associated with the lifecycle of your projects.

Document Management	A secure and structured hub for centralized access to the latest version of all project and corporate documents, emails and drawings
Email Management	A single filing system for all incoming and outgoing email, with Outlook integration to automate intelligent referencing and an email vault to ensure emails are never lost
Drawing Management	An integrated drawing register with a powerful reporting and filtering function for managing and sorting controlled documentation
Administration and Security	A secure approach to access at a system, project and user level, controlled by your chosen administrator
Company Databases	The Organization Database – stores key corporate information on every business you are in contact with The Contact Database – is a central address book where your entire business can add, edit and search for individuals The Project Database – captures key details about program, progress, people and performance across the project lifecycle

Operational Modules

The functionality in the core system is critical for any A&E firm. However, there are modules available that provide additional features as needed.

Modules that support specific business processes include:

Contract Management	Automates the distribution of, and captures the third party response to items like submittals and requests for information (RFIs) in one central project register
Revit Connector	Bridges the gap between Revit and Project Information Management, allowing you to interrogate the model by any parameter value
Mobile Working	Delivers simple, digital and paperless processes between site and office via smartphones and tablets. Manage punch lists, site diaries, photographs and observations; mark up images; and allow access to drawings via the mobile app to eliminate stacks of paper in a few swipes to stay connected wherever you are
Custom Form Builder	Simplifies project paperwork with forms that meet your project needs and enable your teams to quickly and easily complete project data and share with teams on site and back in the office without additional administrative burden or lost paperwork

Take Information Management to the Next Level

When you build on the power of PIM with enhancements and add-in modules, you can help your business move from chaos to calm.

- » Manage work seamlessly when away from the office so you can keep tabs of everything that has been done or needs to be done at the site including uploading site photos, managing inspections, updating punch lists, redlining drawings and more with Mobile Working.
- » With the Revit Connector, gain efficiency and consistency in document production and distribution.
- » And more! We'll help you identify the right solution to meet your specific goals and objectives.
